- 2 Romanesco
  → not counted — no nutrition match
- 40 g pine nuts
  → Nuts, cashew nuts, raw
- 300 g New Zealand spinach (from the Netherlands)
  → New Zealand spinach, raw
- 1 courgette
  → Squash, summer, zucchini, includes skin, raw
- 1 chilli
  → Peppers, hot chili, green, raw
- 1 tub vegan pesto
  → Pesto sauce
- Oil for frying (pantry)

→ Vegetable oil, NFS

- 2 clove garlic (pantry)
  → Garlic, raw

Preparation

Amounts in the steps are for 2 servings, as on crisp.nl.

Step 1

Bring a large pan of salted water to the boil. Cook 150 g conchiglie pasta al dente for 9-10 minutes from when the water boils, stirring well at the start. Note, the spinach will be added for the last 30 seconds (see below).

Step 2

Bring a small pan with a layer of water and salt to the boil. Cut 1 Romanesco into small florets. Cook until al dente in approx. 6 minutes. Drain.

Step 3

Gently toast 20 g pine nuts in a dry frying pan. Let cool briefly on a plate.

Step 4
Rinse 150 g New Zealand spinach (from the Netherlands). Remove the leaves from the stems. Thicker stems are too tough to eat. Thinner stems are fine, roughly chop the leaves and stems.

Step 5
Cook the New Zealand spinach (from the Netherlands) with the pasta for the last 30 seconds. Drain. Return the pasta and spinach to the pan with a little cooking liquid and cover.

Step 6
Cut ½ courgette into quarter moons 1 cm thick. Heat oil for frying in a frying pan and fry vigorously for approx. 5 minutes. Cut ½ chilli into rings and finely chop 1 clove garlic. Add at the end, shake a few times and turn off the heat.

Step 7
Mix the Romanesco and courgette with the drained pasta and spinach in the pan – warm up for another minute if necessary. Stir in the vegan pesto and season well with salt and pepper.

Step 8
Serve with the pine nuts.

Chef's notes & cookware

- Your big pot is for the pasta. Use your medium pot for the Romanesco florets, replacing the 'small pan' in the recipe. The frying pan is needed for the courgette later (steps 1, 2, 5, 6, 7).
- To save time and free up your frying pan, toast the pine nuts in the air fryer or oven at about 180°C/350°F for 3-5 minutes, keeping a close eye on them, while the pasta and Romanesco cook. This lets you move straight to frying the courgette without cleaning the pan (steps 3, 6).

- Before any heat goes on, get all your chopping done: Romanesco into florets, spinach rinsed and chopped, courgette into quarter moons, and chilli and garlic prepped. This ensures a smooth workflow, especially when things start cooking quickly (steps 2, 4, 6).
- Start the pasta first, then the Romanesco about 3-4 minutes later, as it cooks faster. Be ready to add the chopped spinach to the pasta for just the last 30 seconds to wilt it perfectly, then drain everything quickly (steps 1, 2, 5).
- Ensure both pasta and Romanesco are cooked al dente for the best texture. When mixing, use a little of the pasta cooking liquid if needed to create a light sauce with the pesto, and don't skimp on seasoning at the end (steps 1, 2, 5, 7).
